

AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

Please replace the paragraph on page 10, lines 3-12 with the following amended paragraph:

If the operator mistakenly inputs the destination telephone number during the copy mode, it is determined whether or not the ~~pose~~ pause key 38 has been entered (S5). If so, the mode is switched to the facsimile mode with the input numerical value retained (S8). Those digits of the destination telephone number which are other than those input during the copy mode are input (S9). Is finally determined whether or not the start key 37 has been entered (S10). If so, the original is transmitted to the input destination telephone number (S11).